A REPORT on the Peace River and its tributaries, by W. Ogilvie, compiled from the notes of his exploratory survey made in 1891, published by government, has been received. It is a well printed pamphlet of 44 pages and sets forth in plain language the observations and deductions of a practical man. Besides the Peace river and its tributaries it includes observations on the Athabasca, Mackenzie and Liard rivers, and is in fact a hand book of information on the waters of the Mackenzie basin, the geographical position of the principal points of interest, and the natural resources of the country. This is beyond question the most valuable and most reliable report that has yet been issued in regard to the Mackenzie basin, which comprises fully a sixth of the total area of Canada.

THE following advertisement forwarded by "A. Weisz, dealer of stamps and antiquities, Budapest, (Hungary) Vaczi-korut 4," is inserted free of charge, together with the order for its insertion. The heroic breaks made at the English language are quite as curious as any of the old stamps or postcards that Mr. Weisz is likely to collect: "Dear Sir! I take the liberty to beg you for publishing of my announce there inclosed in your honoured journal 20 times and 2 times weekly if possible thursday and sunday, I shall cover the account after the comparation. Please to translate the announce in the language of your journal. Awaiting a specimen numero I am your thruly A. Weisz. Postage Stamps—Old stamps, postcards, collections, and monies antiquities are bought, changed, at the highest prices offered or approved parcels. A. Weisz, dealer of stamps and antiquities, Budapest, (Hungary) Vaczi-korut 4."

FRANK RICHARDS, the English newspaper correspondent who visited Edmonton last fall has been lecturing on Canada in England, his lecture being illustrated by lantern slides and pictures lent by the C. P. Railway. A synopsis of the lecture appears in the Banbury Guardian a copy of which has been received by G. W. Hislop. Judging from the printed report the country did not lose any of its attractions through Mr. Richards' telling. Of Edmonton he says: "We pass the prairies and visit on our way the Ojibways, the Blackfeet the Sioux, the Crees, and the Assiniboines, and find ourselves in a new country on the banks of the North Saskatchewan river and south of Peace river. If I were to tell of this country, one half of what I have to say, it would take columns in the newspapers and hours to relate. I must content myself with saying that it is the finest country in the whole of the continent of British North America, it is warmer than Manitoba, although in coming north we have been getting nearer to the Arctic regions, but we have dropped about 2,000 feet and have got to the Arctic slope. The country is watered with grand rivers and is wooded like a gentleman's park in England. It is there for anyone to go in and possess. It has only been opened a few months, but people are crowding in now, over 2,000 people went to Edmonton last year. There is plenty of adventure in these western countries, there are the bears and wolves, plenty of sport, deer in abundance; fish of the finest quality, and prairie fowl and other game."

As Jas. McDonald was driving yesterday his horse shied when near the top of the grade at Jos. Macdonald's, South Edmonton, and upset the cutter throwing Mr. McDonald and Miss Robertson, who was driving with him, out, fortunately without doing any damage to either the cutter or its occupants.

A Quebec dispatch says, Tarte's official majority in L'Islet is 39, but in reality it should be a hundred. An Episcopal decree on marriage between Catholics and Protestants and reserved cases was read on Sunday, January 8th. The Regina Standard is very strongly opposed to a second term for lieutenant-governor Royal. The following is the concluding paragraph of its article on the subject: "Let the government commit no mistake in reference to this matter. Let not the general support of our people be misconstrued as servile acquiescence. Give us a resident, a non-resident, anybody or anything, but no second term of the present incumbency, if you please."

Regina Leader: "One of our best conservative farmers has just left us, having declared that unless the duty on binder twine was removed, the duty on coal oil removed or lowered, and the duties on implements greatly reduced he did not see how he could support the government. That duty on binder twine we do not like to trust ourselves to characterize, and the argument put by the oil men themselves in favor of the present duty is one of the most conclusive reasons for reducing it. These duties are no part of the N. P. Mr. Massey gives $100,000 to an educational institutional in Winnipeg. "Who gave that?" asked the above farmer. "It was not Massey, but the farmers of the Northwest." The duties on implements are too high. Mr. Massey is in a position to give large sums in Winnipeg and Toronto and his company has been putting the knuckles on the farmers. Protecting a combine is no part of the N. P.; it is entirely contrary to the N. P.; and every true protectionist knows that a protective policy requires constant watching, because the protected industries are always clamoring for more protection, for heavier duties, for a higher wall. In fact what they would like would not be protection but exclusion, and as over-protected manufacturers soon become rich and powerful and acquire influence in politics by means of the wealth wrung from the farmer, they will, unless watched, succeed in making the politicians not protectionists but exclusionists, as they have done in the United States."

A REPLY TO AN IMPORTANT QUESTION

Which is the best and cheapest Dry Goods Store in Town? is the question now frequently asked by the Settlers, who have recently arrived in this district. In answer to this important question, I would respectfully but emphatically reply, the

MANCHESTER HOUSE.

Dealing as I do almost exclusively in Dry Goods, I have always on hand a larger and better assorted stock than any house in Town. Prices too are cut so fine, that it is frequently remarked by those who seek quotations "Why you are selling as cheap as they do down east, and in fact in some cases cheaper."

Many of the lines have been personally selected in the best English Markets.

IN LADIES' MEN'S AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENTS HOUSE FURNISHINGS, &c., &c.

Will be found a splendid assortment of goods which cannot fail to please, and at prices that must draw crowds of purchasers.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JANUARY 19, 1893

ALONG THE C. & E. LINE.

Nine miles north of Red Deer the railway crosses the Blind Man's river, a fine stream coming from the wet timbered country to the west and flowing into the Red Dner only two or three miles further east. Blackfalds siding is just north of the Blind river valley, on the upland, the grade out of the valley to the north being too heavy to permit of the siding being placed actually on the river. Although there is no station at this siding the train stops to deliver mail, and generally has some passenger or freight business to do at the same point, owing to the number of settlers who have gone into that neighborhood. But owing to the rolling nature of the country very few houses can be seen. Off to the east six or eight miles can be seen a range of wooded hills lying north and south, through which the Red Deer river breaks in its course eastward, causing an immense canon, or very deep narrow valley with precipitous banks. In this canon is found one of the most remarkable seams of coal known to exist in the Northwest. There is a face of over 40 feet of clear coal exposed for a distance of three or four miles along the side of the valley above the water edge and no one yet knows how far the face extends below the surface of the water. The first station north of Red Deer, is Lacombe, about a mile east of Barnett's stopping place on the old Calgary trail. The country here is somewhat more broken than at any other point on the line, and while it offers some farming locations that for situation and quality of soil cannot be surpassed, this section of country is best suited for stock raising. There is abundance of hay, plenty of water and plenty of rolling land with the very best of pasture on it. To the east lies the same range of timbered hills mentioned as lying east of Blind man, and to the west is the almost solid forest of poplar and spruce which extends to the base of the Rocky Mountains. There is a post office at this station and a small store. But there seems to be no reason why a good town should not spring up here, as no doubt it will next summer.

Twenty miles north of Lacombe through the same kind of country suitable chiefly for stock raising, is Ponoka station on the Battle river. This river, unlike the streams further south, has a scarcely perceptible valley. The stream rises in Pigeon and Battle lakes, about 50 miles to the northwest in the timbered regions, and takes a northerly bend a couple of miles southwest of the station. It is between one and two hundred feet wide at low water, and becomes very large in high water. This river falls into the Saskatchewan at Battleford, over 200 miles east of the railway crossing, and the country through which it flows for that whole distance is probably the finest area of agricultural land that the Northwest contains. The station is on gently rising ground on the west bank of the river, and could not be improved upon as a town site, but unfortunately for its prospects it is cut off to the southwest, west and north by a large block of Indian reserves, which occupy the best agricultural land in the vicinity. From the station the river runs northerly for seven or

PROPRIETORS.

BRICK! BRICK! YES BRICK.

Having attained the reputation of making the best brick in the Territories I will make it a point to continue to lead in that line; while thanking the building community of Edmonton and vicinity for their kind patronage in the past would invite their inspection of my work and prices in the future. Do not be deluded by parties who claim to make a pressed brick with a sand stock machine, or produce them in May in this country; it cannot be done. Pressed brick sell in the cities of Canada and the Eastern states for $20.00 and upward per thousand and can't be sold or made here for any $10.00. I set up no claim to such liberality, but can produce a good brick in July for $8.00; August, $7.00, September $6.00, and in large quantities. Parties requiring brick late or early in the season will find it to their advantage to examine what they are buying, before placing their orders.

eight miles, the railway following its west bank and about three miles north of the point at which the river bends off to the northeast is a siding at the Indian settlement of Bears Hill, where there is a Roman Catholic mission. Four or five miles southeast of this siding is the Battle river agency, and a Methodist mission. At this point a beautiful plain begins which extends from Bears' Hill to the Big Stone creek, about fourteen miles from south to north by about the same distance from east to west, beginning at the Battle river on the east, which still flows northerly to a point about ten miles due east of Wetaskiwin station and running westward to the solid timber on the west. This section of country is very slightly undulating prairie of rich soil and rank growth of grass. There are streams and lakes all around but none of any account on it. However, well water can be had in abundance all over the plain at from ten to 25 feet. There is very little willow or scrub and the land is easily broken for crop. It is no wonder that this choice section of country has attracted a very large number of settlers during the season, probably more than any other point south of Edmonton.

The town of Wetaokiwin, now containing three or four fine general stores, a larger hotel than any other place between Calgary and Edmonton with a population nearly as large as Innisfail, had no existence in the beginning of August last. This place has made a most rapid growth and there is every indication that it will show still more rapid growth next season. The country around Wetaskiwin seems to be most favored by people from the States of Idaho and Washington who have gone and are going there in large numbers.

Free Press: There is a growing impression that the approaching session will be the last of the present parliament. No parliament elected since the defeat of the Mackenzie administration in 1878 has run its full time, all being dissolved after their fourth session. Should the expectation of the knowing ones be realized the present parliament will be the shortest since confederation as it will have put in only three out of its five sessions. We have not seen any cogent reasons given why there should be a dissolution so soon after the last election, and perhaps there are none beyond those which may appeal to the government as promising an advantage to itself and its party. Yet it is not strange that people should have got it into their heads that there may be a general election before the close of the current year. Sir John Thompson has assumed the Premiership under the apparently and exceptionally favorable condition of a two-third support in the House, but no one believed that his strength in the country is proportionately as great. Indeed, his strength in the country is more than a usually unknown quantity; he would be a hardy venturer who would risk his reputation for political sagacity in the attempt to estimate it under the circumstances of the present.

GENERAL NEWS.

Says the Toronto Mail: A statesman is a man who can say something that appears to mean a great deal, but in reality means nothing. For instance, Sir John Thompson has announced impressively that the Manitoba school controversy shall be settled strictly in accordance with the constitution. This sounds big, but it means nothing until the Premier explains whether he intends to be governed by the constitution as interpreted by the highest court in the realm, or as understood by a self-appointed committee at Ottawa.

Lethbridge News: The weather for the past week has been more like spring than the first of January. The snow was all taken away by the chinook of last week and the warmth of the sun had dried up the ground and the roots of the grass were beginning to show signs of starting. Yesterday, however, a snow storm set in and continued all day, but melted nearly as rapidly as it fell. To-day the ground is white but the weather is fine and the sun shines warm and bright. Reports from all parts state that the late storms have not been disastrous to stock, very little loss being experienced. The present fine weather will be welcomed by stockmen all over the cattle districts.

The revenue of the Dominion for December amounted to $2,896,253, and the expenditure on account of the consolidated fund to $2,084,703, leaving a surplus for the month under this head of $811,550 or a net surplus of $514,630, even if we deduct the sum of $296,920, which represents capital expenditure during the month. The revenue for the six months of the current fiscal year amounted to $18,550,024 and the expenditure to $13,842,497, leaving a surplus of $5,716,728, and if from this is deducted the sum of $1,948,111 expended on capital account still there is a net surplus $3,768,417 which represents the excess of revenue over expenditure of all kinds.

Work on the Soo extension to the Canadian Pacific through Valley City and Minot, N. D., is now suspended on account of the frozen ground, but eighty miles of track have been laid northwest from Valley City. A. H. Linton, of the firm of Langdon & Co., who have the contract, said that the grading was completed from Valley City to the Cheyenne river, 108 miles. The Canadian Pacific are constructing from their main line to the international boundary and will have their work completed as soon as Langdon & Co. have completed their work, or in August next. The extension will cross the line into Canada about eighty miles northwest of Minot.—Minneapolis Tribune.

The Mail published recently a long letter from their Collingwood correspondent regarding the political situation in North Simcoe. It says that nothing else is talked of in the riding but the present passage at arms between its representative in the house, Dalton McCarthy and party over the former's attitude on the trade question. Conservatives, it adds, are divided into two hostile camps, the one by far the largest and most influential determined to follow McCarthy through thick and thin, the other fearing and perhaps hating him. It further says it is evident that a plot is on foot in the riding to undermine McCarthy's popularity and usefulness, and that this plot originated not there but in higher counsels of the Conservative party. A convention is to be held at Stayner some time this month at which McCarthy will give his views on political questions of the day.

A Chicago special to the Times says: A secret meeting of the transcontinental lines was held in St. Paul yesterday at which the Canadian Pacific showed its hand. The meeting was called to determine the policy of roads represented for meeting the changed conditions following the completion of the Great Northern railway. With another competitor in the field the transcontinental lines felt the necessity of coming to some kind of an agreement by which the business could be amicably divided and rates maintained. The meeting was held for this purpose. All the roads most interested were represented. Nothing was accomplished owing to the attitude of the Canadian Pacific which refused to enter into any negotiations for the maintenance of rates with American roads, alleging that in view of the hostile legislation which was likely to be had in this country it must be free to look after its own interests without entangling alliances with American roads. The refusal of the Canadian Pacific was in the nature of a threat that if congress should repeal the consular seal it—the Canadian Pacific—would enter upon a bitter warfare against American roads. In so doing it would simply be carrying out the policy of the road outlined some time ago when similar threats were made. The threat was never put into execution for reasons known only to the Canadian Pacific, but it still hangs over the heads of American roads. As one eminent railway man said yesterday: "It is not so much what the Canadian Pacific has done as what it will do in the future if it is given the opportunity by the American Government that makes it feared by the roads in this country."
